

Be careful where you park, you could get towed!

Winter Parking Restrictions are now in effect for Minneapolis. This means there is no parking on even sides of residential streets (all streets that are NOT Snow Emergency routes or parkways). Vehicles parked on these streets can be ticketed and towed.

Winter Parking Restrictions are put in place for public safety. The high amount of snow accumulation this winter have narrowed many streets to the point that fire trucks, ambulances and other emergency vehicles have a difficult time using them. To make sure emergency crews can get to homes and businesses, this parking restriction is now in place.

The parking restriction will be in effect until April 1, or until conditions warrant a lifting of the parking restriction.
