Supporting Information

The CPED Planning Division administers, interprets and enforces the Minneapolis Zoning Code. The purpose of the Code, in part, as stated in Chapter 520.30 is to protect the public health, safety, aesthetics, economic viability and general welfare of the city; to protect the character and stability of residential, commercial and industrial areas within the city; and to promote the orderly and beneficial development of those areas.

A comprehensive revision to the zoning code was adopted by the City Council in 1999. Ongoing revisions are recommended and adopted for a variety of reasons, including, but not limited to, the need to respond to state law changes and comply with other public agency requirements (i.e. MAC, DNR, FEMA); to ensure consistency with adopted plans; to respond to changing market conditions and development patterns where appropriate; to respond to changing policy direction; and to simplify and streamline where possible. The Zoning Code is formally amended when the Council and Mayor approve individual rezoning applications, approve changes as part of a rezoning study, and/or approve zoning code text and map amendments.

The proposed amendments vary in scope and complexity. Some proposed amendments, such as updating the definitions chapter and correcting technical discrepancies, are administrative in nature. Some, such as establishing definitions and development standards for public plazas, have limited application. Others, such as a rezoning study or consideration of special zoning controls for the University area apply to specific geographic areas. Still others, such as the comprehensive review of parking standards, the planned unit development chapter and the land subdivision regulations, can affect a broad range of development. Staff work on zoning code text and map amendments includes research and analysis related to legal authority, best practices, alternatives, possible impacts on other parts of the code (with the goal of trying to avoid unintended consequences), and drafting language. Staff works closely with the City Attorney's Office on all amendments.

Planning staff completed work on ten (10) zoning code text amendments in 2004, eleven (11) in 2005, ten (10) in 2006, and eleven (11) so far in 2007. Planning staff are currently working on eleven (11) text amendments, including two (2) development moratoria. They are also working on two (2) rezoning studies, with several pending.

A complete inventory of proposed zoning code text amendments is attached. The inventory includes the applicable chapter of the code, brief description, status and staff recommended timeline, and comments. It also includes the list of rezoning studies underway and pending. The second worksheet in the document includes the amendments completed between 2004 and 2006.
