

dear linea palmisano,

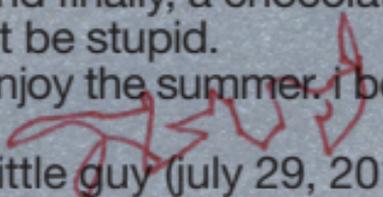

how nice of you to write. sorry i missed you. thank you for the very kind note. i am truly honored for all the fuss over simply being an ordinary tree elf with a penchant for letter writing. you are too kind to me. i would be happy to accept this honor in person but i'm afraid some human might step on me in all the excitement and my guts would come squishing out my mouth. so thanks, but no thanks.

ideally i would like batman to accept it for me but if he is not available, a group of children will do, or perhaps chipmunks.

my only hope for the city is it continues to be be a haven for dreamers, artists, visionaries and nut cases.

and finally, a chocolate cake of course. don't be stupid.

enjoy the summer. i believe in you. <sup>TM</sup>

mr. little guy (july 29, 2014)