2023 ANNUAL REPORT FOR THE HERITAGE PRESERVATION COMMISSION

This publication is the Annual Report for the Minneapolis Heritage Preservation Commission (HPC) for its fiscal year October 1, 2022–September 30, 2023. It has been prepared according to the guidelines outlined in “Procedures for Applying for and Maintaining Certified Local Government Status (CLG).” CLG status is administered by the Minnesota State Historic Preservation Office (SHPO) for the National Park Service. Each year, the HPC applies for CLG grants through the SHPO. An Annual Report is one of the requirements for maintaining CLG status.

HERITAGE PRESERVATION FILES AND INVENTORY

Community Planning and Economic Development (CPED) is located in room #320 of the Public Service Building, 505 4th Avenue South, and retains landmark and historic district nominations for properties in the city as well as inventory and other research files for other potentially historic properties. Some of these materials are in survey form and typically contain brief descriptions of the resource or building, an approximate date of construction, a statement of significance, and a photograph. For locally designated properties, CPED maintains records on land use applications that have either gone before the HPC for approval or have been reviewed administratively. There is also a collection of books maintained on the history of Minneapolis.

RESEARCH AND CONTACTS

Survey and research information is available to the public during business hours. Those interested in researching any potential or known historic resource are encouraged to call for an appointment with CPED staff to discuss their specific needs or to view the HPC collection.

TRUTH IN SALE OF HOUSING REPORTS

Local historic designation status is now recorded on all Truth in Sale of Housing (TISH) reports following CPED staff's efforts. TISH evaluations are required for single-family houses, duplexes, townhouses, and first-time condominium; conversions that are sold in Minneapolis. They have long displayed zoning classification but for the first time are listing historic designation status to better let property owners know that they are buying a locally designated historic property in the city.

HERITAGE PRESERVATION COMMISSION

Created in 1972, the Heritage Preservation Commission (HPC) is a ten-member commission comprised of persons living within the City of Minneapolis who possess a demonstrated interest, as well as professional experience and expertise, in preservation work.

43RD ANNUAL STATEWIDE HISTORIC PRESERVATION CONFERENCE

The 43rd Annual Statewide Historic Preservation Conference was held in Mankato, MN, September 27th - 29th. Bonnie McDonald, president and CEO of Landmarks Illinois, delivered the keynote address on building a more relevant and just historic preservation movement. The Minneapolis HPC received a scholarship to attend the conference. CPED Staff Erin Que and HPC Chair Barbara Howard presented with Ginny Way of SHPO and Lindsey Wallace of the 106 Group on working toward equity in historic preservation, which centered upon facilitated breakout conversations related to diversity, equity, inclusion, and access in historic preservation. CPED Staff Andrea Burke, John Hedstrom, and Rob Skalecki, along with HPC Commissioners Marais Bjornberg and Paul Mellblom also attended. Other sessions dealt with historic contexts, code enforcement, input facilitation, railroad evaluations, mid-century Modern architectural styles, archaeology, cultural landscapes, equitable recovery and rebuilding, and digital stereoscopy.

DESIGN GUIDELINES

This year CPED updated the Design Guidelines for On-Premises Signs and Awnings. Since their initial adoption on June 17, 2003, the Minneapolis Heritage Preservation Commission's Design Guidelines for On-Premise Signs and Awnings have remained unchanged, while Zoning Code standards have relaxed regulation of sign types, sizes, heights, materials, methods of illumination, and messages. HPC decisions regarding signs and awnings have typically followed suit. This update codifies such trends, further streamlining the development review process while still reserving the right of property owners to request the HPC grant reasonable exceptions to these standards, in line with historical trends. Signage (for both advertising and identification) was prolific during all Minneapolis landmarks' and historic districts' periods of significance.

The updated guidelines streamline development review by eliminating:

- guidelines related to rarely enforced standards, such as regulations regarding sign message, parking lot signage, real estate sign location, master sign plan requirements, and wall signs' 2' height maximum;
- guidelines related to exceptions frequently approved by the HPC in Certificate of Appropriateness applications, such as sign height, number of signs (by type and on their own), sign area, numbers of illuminated signs, and prohibitions against canopy signs; and
- redundant standards already regulated by the Zoning Code, such as allowed sign types, banner sign standards, and project information sign size and location standards.

The updated guidelines also incorporate additional sections on canopy signs, dynamic signs, and murals, as well as a pictorial glossary to help visually identify the different sign types across the city.

DESIGNATIONS

This year CPED completed two (2) designation studies.

LOCAL INDIVIDUAL LANDMARK DESIGNATION STUDIES

HOLY TRINITY EPISCOPAL CHURCH

316 4TH AVE SE

DESIGNATION: March 14, 2023

The parcel at 316 4th Ave SE was originally purchased by the Holy Trinity Episcopal congregation in 1872 under the guidance of their leader, Rev. George L. Chase. The present building was designed by a young English architect, William Cansdale, who died in 1873 before the edifice was completed. The design was finalized and guided for completion by Rev. Chase who used a community effort to finish the building which notably included Dr. William Watts Folwell of the State University (University of Minnesota) completing stone carvings for the church. The first service was held in the building on November 30, 1873, for Advent Sunday.

The Holy Trinity Episcopal church is a rare example of a local interpretation of the Ruskinian Gothic architectural style. Ruskinian Gothic is a term used to describe a style of building based on the architectural philosophies of renowned English philosopher, artist, and writer, John Ruskin. Ruskin advocated for gothic design, polychromy in masonry, and honest, handcrafted construction. A local news account of the church's 1870s dedication ceremony cited Ruskin's philosophy having influenced the design and planning of the church.

The church size was doubled in 1890 with plans for the transept addition completed by master architect Warren Howard Hayes. Hayes was diligent to follow Holy Trinity's original design form and continued the church's characteristic material contrast between blue-grey Platteville limestone and buff Kasota stone accent in his design. The building remains the oldest church in Minneapolis that retains its original architectural style.

The church was proposed for demolition in April 2022, and the Heritage Preservation Commission voted to deny the demolition of the church and study it further for possible landmark designation. The designation study determined that church was determined eligible for designation under local Criterion #1, and Criterion #4, for its social history and architectural significance, respectively. The property became a protected Minneapolis landmark in March 2023.

WAYNE AND GERTRUDE KELLY HOUSE

2901 BROOKWOOD TERR

DESIGNATION: August 8, 2023

2901 Brookwood Terrace includes a single-family dwelling built in 1927 for the family of Wayne and Gertrude Kelly. The building was designed by local architect Roland R. Wilcken and built by Minneapolis contractors Nelson & Johnson.

The dwelling was designed in the Spanish Eclectic style and is emblematic of the second wave of Spanish design influence in Minneapolis homebuilding that emerged in the 1920s. The home's arched openings, textured exterior stucco cladding, wrought-iron decorations, stone entry surround, tile roofing, low-pitched hipped roof with minimal eaves, arched reliefs and openings, spiraled columns, ornate stone balustrade and patio, arched corbel table, clay chimney caps, and the building's association to the lot's natural environment remain as some of the property's key indicators of the Spanish Eclectic style. These design elements are based in centuries of Spanish architectural history reflecting elements of Roman, Gothic, Moorish, Medieval and/or Renaissance features of Iberian architecture.

The home's features combine to showcase obvious contrast among materials, textures, and color. The character of this style is based in contrast between the simple and the ornate, relying heavily on asymmetry in roof form, fenestration, and decoration. Unlike many other examples of Spanish Eclectic homes in Minneapolis, the subject property has been shown to retain a high degree of historic integrity and original architectural features, as confirmed through historic permits, maps, photographs, and a copy of the dwelling's original drawings.

The designation study determined the property is significant under Criterion #4, for architecture, since the property embodies the distinctive characteristics of the Spanish Eclectic architectural style.

GRANT PROJECTS

CLG GRANT: In FY 2023, CPED retained Pigeon Consulting to update design guidelines for the Washburn-Fair Oaks Historic District as part of a FY 2022 CLG Grant. CPED received the final report in June 2023 and is in the process of revising the guidelines before submittal to SHPO for state review and to the HPC for adoption.

In July 2023, CPED was awarded a CLG grant to resurvey in the locally designated Fifth Street Southeast Historic District. The $20,000 award will be combined with $6,000 in CPED funds to hire a consultant to complete the work between Fall 2023 and Summer 2024.

During this same period, CPED applied for, and was awarded, a CLG grant to send four commissioners and staff members to the 2023 Statewide Preservation Conference held in Mankato in September.

NATIONAL PARK SERVICE UNDERREPRESENTED COMMUNITIES GRANT: In FY2023, CPED applied for a grant through the National Park Service's Underrepresented Communities program to hire a consultant team to write a Minneapolis African American Historic and Cultural Context. This is the second phase in a larger project. Previously, CPED received a grant from the National Trust for Historic Preservation to conduct community engagement and draft an outline for the context study. In addition to drafting the context, the grant application proposed to conduct a selective architectural history survey of 25 properties and draft one nomination to list a property in the National Register of Historic Places. Grant recipients will be selected in FY2024.

LEGACY GRANT: Due to the competitive nature of grant programs, CPED also applied for a large legacy grant in FY2023 to hire a consultant team to write a Minneapolis African American Historic and Cultural Context. In addition to drafting the context, the grant application proposed to conduct a selective architectural history survey of 25 properties. This grant program requires that projects be completed within 18 months, which reduced the scope of work CPED proposed. Grant recipients will be selected in FY2024.

NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES NOMINATIONS

The HPC commented favorably on the following NRHP nomination:

Hiawatha Golf Course 4553 Longfellow Ave

Hiawatha Golf Course is historically significant under National Register Criterion A, in the areas of Entertainment/Recreation, Social History, and Ethnic Heritage: Black, as a significant site for civil rights in Minneapolis. The clubhouse and golf course were developed in the 1930s as golf became increasingly popular. Many Black Minneapolitans lived nearby in an area known as Southside (bounded by 34th St E, Nicollet Ave, 46th St E, and Chicago Ave). As such, the course was an important recreational, social, and gathering space for this community. Although Black golfers were permitted to play on the course, they were denied access to the clubhouse and membership in the private Hiawatha Golf Club, which limited opportunities for Black golfers to fully participate in the sport as well as enter most tournaments.

Efforts to fight these discriminatory practices came to a head in 1952. The Twin City Golf Club (formed in 1931 by and for a group of Black golfers) in tandem with a civil rights attorney, petitioned to be recognized at a city course and end racial discrimination at its facilities, which ultimately succeeded. That same year, Hiawatha was the first park board clubhouse to be integrated. In 1966, the Hiawatha Golf Club became the first private club at a Minneapolis municipal golf course to invite a Black person to join. The Bronze Open Golf Tournament (originally called the Negro Open) moved to Hiawatha in 1968, where it reached its peak in popularity and continues today as the Upper Midwest Bronze Amateur Golf Tournament. This tournament was and remains a major social and recreational highlight of the year, particularly for Black families throughout the Midwest. The late 1960s also saw the completion of Interstate 35W, which had bisected the Southside community and involved the demolition or removal of 50 square blocks and portions of Nicollet Park. This historic event increased Hiawatha Golf Course's importance as a social gathering place for the Black community. Additionally, the Old Negro Golf League continues to meet weekly, signaling the property's continued importance to the Black community.

PERMITS AND DESIGN REVIEW

The Minneapolis Heritage Preservation Ordinance requires the HPC and CPED staff to review alterations to landmarks, properties within historic districts, and properties under interim protection. Additionally, the ordinance requires CPED staff to review all wrecking and moving permits prior to issuance by the City to determine whether the affected property is a historic resource. If CPED staff determines that the property is a historic resource, the demolition requires approval by the HPC.
