Reaching out to your neighbors:

How you choose to share information with you neighbors is up to you. Here are a few suggestions:

- Door-knocking is a great way to let people know that you are the Recycling Block Leader, share information and answer their questions. We can provide you with sample scripts and educational materials to hand out.
- Send email updates: Gather a list of email addresses for your neighbors and send periodic recycling reminders. This list is a great way to send out quick updates about materials that are contaminating recycling and organics carts or to share updates on information that is no longer accepted in the recycling and organics recycling program.
- Attend block club meetings: If your block has regular block club meetings, request to be on the agenda periodically to share recycling updates.
- Post on social media: Post information on Facebook, Twitter, NextDoor and other social media outlets.
- Table at a block party: If your block hosts a block party, have a table with recycling and organics recycling information.

We're here to help! Let us know if you have questions or would like help developing an outreach strategy for your friends, family and neighbors.
